MESSAGE FROM THE

CHIEF GUEST

AMBASSADOR OF SRI LANKA TO THE SULTANATE OF OMAN

It is with great pleasure that I send this message to the souvenir published on the occasion of the Annual Get-together of the Sri Lankan Quantity Surveyors Fraternity.

I am happy to note that the Sri Lankan Quantity Surveyors Fraternity (SLQSF) is the largest body of professional representatives in Oman. The high demand for the Sri Lankan Quantity Surveyors in Oman is a testimony to the recognition of their talents and expertise by the industries in Oman. For many years, the Sri Lankan Quantity Surveyors have gained a high reputation for their professionalism among clients, consultants and contractors in the Sultanate.

I appreciate the Fraternity's efforts to enhance and enrich the capacity of its members by conducting various activities during the year. The fraternity has evolved over the years and presently provides career support, guidance for education pathways and continuous professional development programmes to its members, including Continuing Professional Development (CPD) programmes and APC support classes.

It was heart-warming to learn that during the flood calamity during the month of June, SLQSF came forward to help the fellow Sri Lankans in distress and collected funds and donated relief materials to the affected people. Further, the Fraternity is making efforts to strengthen the bonds of friendship among its members through their social activities including the SLQS Cricket Tournament, Alms Giving Programme, Health camp and annual get-togethers.

I would like to place my appreciation on the SLQS Fraternity, which is playing a key role in promoting people to people contacts through positive projection of Sri Lankan community in Oman. In this regard, I am happy to note that from last year, the Sri Lankan QSs fraternity is operating as a professional wing under the Sri Lankan Community Social Club, which I consider as a mutually beneficial partnership.

I invite all the members of the Fraternity to support the Embassy's efforts to promote the bilateral relations between Sri Lanka and Oman by sharing information on our motherland's progress, national resources and attractive tourist destinations, among the local community.

I wish you success in all your future endeavours!

MESSAGE FROM THE

CHAIRMAN, SRI LANKAN QUANTITY SURVEYORS' FRATERNITY IN SULTANATE OF OMAN

Delightful welcome from the Sri Lankan Quantity Surveyors in the sultanate of Oman for the 15th Annual Get together on 10th November 2017.

Quantity Surveyors have been identified by the General Public as measurers or professions who are dealing with quantities of Construction Projects. Whereas definition of a Quantity Surveyor is the professional with expert knowledge on construction costs and contracts.

With the advancing technology and the completion in construction industry quantity surveying has become a part and parcel profession with high demand.

We, Sri Lankan Quantity Surveyors have acquired a remarkable spot in the construction industry by practicing the profession with an expert knowledge, discipline, and unity and of course with unchallengeable ethics.

It is my great pleasure to offer the debt of Gratitude to all our Senior Professionals for their commitments which has stamped an amazing blue print in the construction Industry as Sri Lankan Quantity Surveyors.

I am Grateful very much to give away a fabulous evening along with my fellow steering committee members.

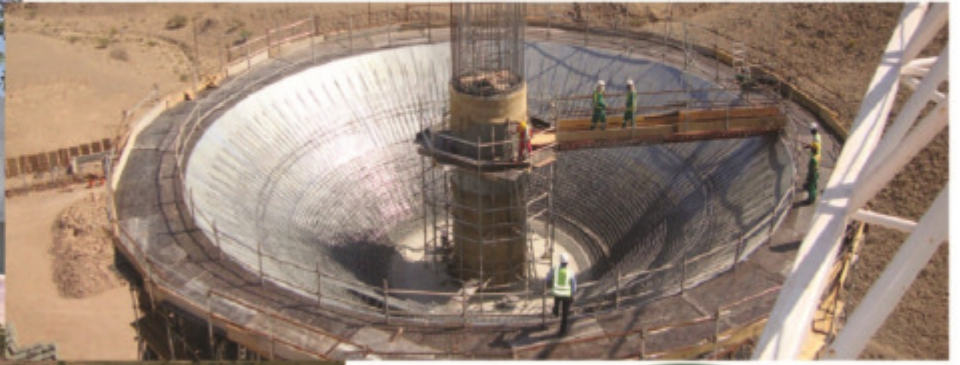

Please share the excitement of Sri Lankan Quantity surveyors' 15th Annual get Together with us.

MESSAGE FROM THE

SRI LANKAN QUANTITY SURVEYORS - QATAR (SLQS - QATAR)

With much pleasure, I pen this congratulatory message as the president of Sri Lankan Quantity Surveyors Qatar to our fellow Society of "Sri Lankan Quantity Surveyors Oman" on the occasion of 15th annual Get together to be held on 10th November 2016 in Muscat.

As Sri Lankan Quantity Surveyors, we have experienced the benefits of the excellent bond with the Oman Association by supporting each other in numerous ways. We value very much the ready support extended by our brethren in Oman any time we needed assistance and we in turn reciprocate the favour when you need any assistance from your fellow colleagues in Qatar.

Being associated with our fellow societies in the region and the rest of the world, we had the pleasure in assisting our members in many ways. This is evident by the continuous growth of our members in Qatar within the last few years notwithstanding the quite challenging economic environment faced by us in the recent past and continuing to this day.

We appreciate the high standards established in Oman for Sri Lankan Quantity surveyors by the members of your association maintaining a high level of professional competency and integrity. This has certainly helped Sri Lankan Quantity Surveyors to move forward towards their journey to success while improving the status and gaining higher recognition as dependable and worthy professionals all over the middle east and the rest of the world.

The Society of Sri Lankan Quantity surveyors Oman has done a commendable service to the society/industry and this is a cause for celebration through this annual Get together. On behalf of Sri Lankan Quantity surveyors in Qatar, I wish the very best to all Sri Lankan Quantity Surveyors in Oman and their families on the 15th annual Get-together.

I wish you an enjoyable gathering and a joyous evening to remember.

MESSAGE FROM THE ROYAL INSTITUTION OF CHARTERED SURVEYORS

We are delighted to offer our congratulations on behalf of RICS, to the Sri Lankan Quantity Surveyors (SLQS) members in Oman on their 15th annual 'get together'.

The role of a professional QS has significant value in today's construction industry. RICS believes that in order to provide successful delivery of a project, a QS needs to be efficient and professional and therefore we strongly advocate and support the commitment we see from SLQS in upholding the professional standards.

As part of this process we commend SLQS-Oman on providing quality Professional Development events and support for the members throughout the year as well as some of the more social events which helps bring the community of professionals together.

The RICS board with in Oman is actively promoting the professional standards in quantity surveying and are also working with governments and key stakeholders to adopt the international standards such as; ICMS and IPMS within the country. Currently, RICS accredits 12 courses in Sri Lanka and professionals are now able to undertake APC assessments in the country. We see this is a positive move in supporting organisations such as SLQS and members in the professionalising of the industry.

We wish SLQS members and guests a most enjoyable evening and on behalf of RICS I wish you all the very best for the forthcoming year.

With kind regards,

Jonathan Brown FRICS

Claims due to Increase in Fuel Price in Oman

Oman Ministry of Oil and Gas unveiled list of new fuel prices on 11th January 2016 stating that the changes come in to force with effective from 15th January 2016. It was further announced that the new fuel prices subject to periodical monthly review as per global prices. Prior to 15th January 2016, fuel prices in Oman were stable for decades and therefore the chances for the contractor's to foresee fluctuation of fuel price were minimum.

If this risk has not been foreseen, increase of fuel prices has an impact on project costs. The contractors submit claims for increase in fuel price using the supporting documents such as newspapers clippings, letters from oil companies notifying revised rates, etc. to substantiate the claims. However a question has arisen as to whether these documents are to be considered as valid justifications for variations to the contract in the absence of proper legal documents.

Pursuant to sub clause 70(2) of the Oman Conditions of Contract (Sultanate of Oman Standard Document for Building and Civil Engineering Works, 3rd edition, 1981), adjustment to the Contract Prices will be applicable on net cost basis " for changes in material price directly affected as a result of any Sultanate of Oman Legislation promulgated after the date of the letter of acceptance " and further, the Contractor must provide to The Engineer satisfactory detailed evidence of any variation in the basic price of materials affected by such legislation. Moreover as detailed in Oman COC sub clause 52(S) no claim of the Contractor shall be admissible " .... On account of escalation of prices of materials, labour, fuel...." Accordingly, Oman COC does not cater for any adjustment in respect of externally imposed fluctuations in prices of materials, labour, plant etc. Market induced fluctuation in prices are thus to be borne by the Contractor.

In Oman, Changes in legislation shall only be taken into account as a result of a change in Laws in Oman promulgated by Primary legislations (Royal Decrees) or Secondary legislations (Ministerial Decrees). It is understood that the change in fuel prices is not directly affected as a result of any new legislation promulgated in the Sultanate of Oman by primary or secondary legislation. In the view of forgoing, contractor's ability to substantiate the claim is minimal due to non-availability of causal link to legislation changes in terms of Royal Decree or Ministerial Decree with the government decision to increase fuel price.

One could argue that Oman Government General State Budget (2016) has introduced measures to reduce the anticipate deficit and recommended the removal of fuel price subsidies on petroleum products, and this could be the root cause to increase fuel prices. In contrary, by having the purpose of the fuel price increase is to reduce budget deficit, if there are cases where the contractors are compensated by the clients for the increased prices (especially for the government projects) the prime objective will not be served.

According to the Bona- fide Principle the contact administrators have to look all the aspects when the contractual claims are evaluated. If the subject claim is found to be tenable, method of assessment and certification is to be agreed by way of Charter. A Formula method is more suitable to assess this type of claims. In a case like this, it is prudent the client to obtain the legal opinion and the same time the contractors are required to maintain all the necessary contemporary records in daily basis as they may be important to justify any additional costs incurred.
